Player Eligibility Dispute on Game Day

Each club is responsible for ensuring their players are correctly registered as per section 4 of the CRL By-Laws and the players have valid ID cards. On occasion where a coach or team manager wishes to protest the eligibility of an opposing player the coach or team manager must:

Verbally register this objection with the opposing team manager and/or match manager (where one is provided) and not sign the card.

The match manager or team manager will:

- Request the player identification card to be viewed (if the objection is in a grade where player ID cards are provided).
- Request the player to print their full name, address and date of birth on the reverse side of the team card.

Should a player refuse to furnish details including a valid ID card, they will not be permitted to participate in the game.

Take a photo/copy of the card and attach this information with the protest form.

Should occasion occur where there are concerns relating to the eligibility of a player to play a game after a period of absence from the game, because of concussion, the team manager is to make contact with CRL Operations Manager prior to the commencement of the game. CRL will check the validity of the player and contact the team managers advising them of the medical status of the player.
